Why it works

Powered by microencapsulation technology

Tretinoin and benzoyl peroxide (BPO) are 2 trusted acne-fighting treatments. But BPO deactivates tretinoin, so typically they couldn't be combined.

Until TWYNEO
cream!

TWYNEO cream uses microencapsulation technology to separate the 2 treatments into tiny capsules. This keeps BPO from deactivating tretinoin while in the bottle.

When applied, the technology gradually releases each treatment onto your skin, so they can work together to fight acne.

How to use

It's once-daily, and as simple as C-A-M-P

CLEANSE

Use a mild cleanser to gently rinse your face and pat dry with a soft towel.

APPLY THE MEDICATION

Lightly massage a pea-sized amount of TWYNEO cream onto each area of your face (forehead, chin, nose, and cheeks). Avoid your eyes, lips, and mouth and let dry. Wash your hands, as the cream may stain or bleach fabric.

MOISTURIZE

Use a moisturizer (such as Cetaphil® Moisturizing Lotion) as often as needed to minimize skin dryness and irritation.

PROTECT

Use a sunscreen with SPF 30 or higher and wear protective clothing to minimize your exposure to sunlight.

Avoid using sunlamps, tanning beds, and ultraviolet light during treatment with TWYNEO cream.
